

How to use Action Words to make your resume stand out?

Do you want to show off your accomplishments in your resume? Action Words are a proven way to make a striking first impression in the minds of your recruiters. They convey the things that you ‘accomplished’ instead of just the things that you ‘did’.

Using action words (also known as power verbs or action verbs) effectively in your resume can indeed make it stand out by emphasizing your achievements & demonstrating your proactive contributions.

This blog will take you through the steps that can help you to select the suitable action words that you can add in your resume. But before we get into that, here is an action words list that can come to your aid.

Leadership &	Achievements &	Communication &	Innovation &	Problem Solving
-------------------------	---------------------------	----------------------------	-------------------------	------------------------

Management	Results	Collaboration	Creativity	& Analytical skills
Directed	Exceeded	Communicated	Innovated	Analyzed
Managed	Surpassed	Presented	Created	Resolved
Supervised	Accomplished	Negotiated	Designed	Identified
Organized	Succeeded	Corresponded	Developed	Diagnosed
Coordinated	Reached	Collaborated	Conceptualized	Investigated
Led	Delivered	Convinced	Pioneered	Evaluated
Delegated	Realized	Facilitated	Formulated	Formulated
Mentored	Completed	Influenced	Brainstormed	Implemented
Guided	Achieved	Mediated	Implemented	Devised
Facilitated	Attained	Persuaded	Revised	Solved

Steps to select the right Action words in your resume:

Step 1: Choose strong Action words

Select verbs that are dynamic & specific. Avoid overused words like "led" or "managed" unless they accurately describe your role.

Instead, consider verbs like "orchestrated," "implemented," "delivered," "streamlined," "spearheaded," etc. This will leave a strong impression & add weight to your resume.

Step 2: Use Action words suitable for your industry

Industry-specific action verbs demonstrate that you understand the specific skills & qualifications required in that field. This can make a great first impression on your recruiters looking for those skills & qualifications.

Using appropriate industry-specific action verbs demonstrates professionalism & attention to detail. It shows that you have taken the time to tailor your resume to match the expectations & requirements of the industry, which can differentiate you from other candidates.

Step 3: Use Action words to describe your Soft Skills

Soft skills, such as communication, teamwork, problem-solving, leadership & adaptability, are often challenging to illustrate. With the help of Action words, you can easily demonstrate how you have applied these skills in previous roles or projects.

This will show the recruiters that you understand the importance of these soft skills & are determined to use them to add value to the organization.

Step 4: Action words that are effective

Highlight action words that demonstrate your skills & abilities clearly & precisely. Use words used in the job description so that it is easier for Applicant Tracking Systems to navigate through. This alignment shows you understand the job requirements & have the skills needed.

Whenever possible, pair action verbs with quantifiable results to showcase your impact. For example, instead of saying "Improved sales," say "Increased sales by 30%."

Step 5: Do not repeat

Avoid repetition of Action words instead, diversify your language to keep your resume engaging & varied.

Using a wide variety of action words shows that you have great knowledge & skills making you stand apart from your peers. This also gives off a look that you are detail oriented & reflects your professional strengths.

Conclusion

Action words make your resume appear dynamic & engaging. They transform passive descriptions into active statements that showcase your abilities & achievements, capturing the attention of hiring managers & making a stronger impression.
